周宅 案件資料: 地點: 台灣 面積: 21 坪 完成時間: 2016 主要材料: 海島型木地板、木皮、人造石、不鏽鋼版、噴漆、陶瓷烤漆 「檢視傳統與舊習，是得到解放與進化的第一步。」 家的設計也是。「聚、離、烹、食、睡、洗」，甚至工作，這一環環相互相對的關係，如果不以 牆、觀念 來區隔，有趣的現象就會發生：功能被重組整合，空間被釋放出來。 因為沒有制式的房與廳，所以沒有限制的路徑；有種類似悠遊在大城小巷中的熟悉經驗產生，偶而也有轉個彎發現巷中驚喜的趣味。而空間匯集處，便是聚集的場所、生活發生的地方；也可依需求來改變空間的層次與用法。 這其實有些像都市中建築與開放空間的道理，你、我每天生活的社會空間關係。 放開觀念，有限的室內空間，也可有城市般的格局。 那隱私怎辦？ 別擔心。可隔兩房，有門，仔細看。 文/ 周正峰設計工作室

RS-S-174- KT Apartment

KT Apartment Project Info: Location: Taiwan Area: 70 m² Date of Completion: 2016 Materials: Wood Floor, Wood Veneer, Corian, Stainless Steel, Paint, Ceramic paint This project is about designing a home for a young couple, their dog, and future child within a 70 m² interior space, and how to make space in such a limited condition to create an unique living experience. “Public, private, cook, eat, sleep, bath, and work” - all these basic everyday-needs, if not divided by walls and rooms, interesting things start to happen: functions are rearranged, space is released. We organize a series of functional blocks throughout the entire apartment to condense functions, and create space in between. The interior then become a bit like a small city - functional blocks are as architecture, spaces around them are as public spaces where daily-life happen. Living amid them resemble roaming in the street and alley, at times wanders into open spaces, at times spots surprises around corners. Although the entire apartment is one singular space, there are hidden sliding doors when privacy is needed, and is able to transform into 2 separate bedrooms. Text by Marty Chou Architecture
